WineBoards.biz LLC
Adds Preview Tool Just in Time for Holiday Shoppers

Louisville, KY, October 13, 2008 – WineBoards.biz LLC, a web site store with one-of-a-kind personalized wine racks launched in 2007, has just enhanced their web site for the upcoming holiday season.

The WineBoards.biz LLC web site now gives customers the opportunity to design their personalized wine storage racks on site for review prior to ordering. The new feature lets shoppers either upload their own images or select stock images for the entire wine board, and provides a wine label for the top portion that can be personalized. Stock wine board backgrounds with header customization (photo/words) start at $199.99; fully customized designs are still quoted per design.

Family images, wedding dates, special messages, photographs, and original artwork can all be displayed on the 15-bottle storage unit, which is similar to a riddling rack in how it holds the wine bottles.

For more information visit, <http://www.wineboards.biz> you might just find that special Christmas gift for someone that is hard to buy for or seems to have everything.
